TRYING THEIR OLD TRICKS

Marion County Election Inspectors Canvass Slowly Returns of the Vote.

The Work of a Day and Night in Which Democrats Use the Advantage of Their Overwhelming Majority on the Board.

Republican Motions Voted Down, and Returns Canvassed Over Protests.

A Scheme to Throw Out a Precinct Defeated by a Neat Counter-Play-Hope for 'Hadley, Wagner and Tincher's Election.

The board of election canvassers, composed of all the inspectors and township trustees, who by virtue of their office served as such, met in the Circuit Court room yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, to make a canvass of the vote cast in this county Tuesday. The board of ninety members was Democratic with two exceptions, Charles J. Many, trustee of Center township, and W. A. Ketcham, who represented J. M. Watts, trustee of Franklin township. The county clerk, by virtue of his office, was clerk of the board, and named Wm. K. Sproule and George Buskirk as enrolling and counting clerks, and John Schley as reading clerk. Edgar A. Brown was chairman. This is the position which the convict, W. F. A. Bernhamer, held two years ago. Mr. Sullivan attempted to shift the responsibility in the count by proposing that J. L. F. Steeg, a former business partner of Bernhamer act as reading clerk, but Mr. Ketcham objected on the ground that the county clerk should be held responsible for the correct reading of the returns. Only about half the county candidates were present when the board was ready to begin to work. Several of these were represented by attorneys. It was 10:30 o'clock when the work of going over the vote began, and owing to the length of the tickets very slow progress was made. The day sessien was not marked by any features of particular interest. The changes were very few, and affected no candidate materially as they worked both ways. Two inepectors, Robert Kennington, of the second precinct of the Twenty-third ward, and Mr. Shimer, of the first precinct of Warren township, pleaded sickness, and at their request their returns were canyassed before the rest were taken up in regular order. Mr. Kennington's precinct was taken up first. The count showed no change, but Mr. McCray, as attorney for H. T. Tincher, candidate for prosecutor on the Republican ticket, offered a protest against counting the vote of the Union Labor party, as it appeared on the sheet. The returns, he held, did not represent the ballot. The precinct board had credited votes for individuals whose names were on more than one party ticket, and had not added them. The Republican attorneys objected to this manner of counting, because it was possible that the Labor vote had been added to the regular party vote by the precinct board. Chairman Brown held that the votes would have to be counted as they appeared on the retures, and that the inspector could not be asked to explain what the sheet was intended to show,

The first precinct of Warren township did not reveal any changes, but the returns offered attorney Ketcham an opportunity to protest against the vote given John V. Hadley for judge on the returns. He stated that he was informed that two votes cast for John A. Hadley had not been counted. They were obviously intended for John V. Hadley, and thoughtit would be perfeetly right for the board to count the votes for Hadiey. It was also stated that Mr. Shimer had affidavits stating that two such votes had been cast but not counted. Mr. Shimer said he had the affidavits with him, but at that juncture W. H. Corbaley, deputy sheriff, and an inspector, objected, and declared that the board had no right to go behind the returns. This was the same question on which Mr. Bern-bamer, two years before, permitted the forged tally-sheets to pass, and there was considerable curio-it; to see what position Chairman Brown would take. "There can be no controversy as to the law," said the chairman, "we must be controlled by the official documents before us." Frank Landers stated that the tally-sheet should contain the facts. Chairman Brown said Mr. Shimer had probably not understood the law, as his affidavits should have been in the bag with the ballots. The two votes were not counted, and Mr. Ketcham filed a formal protest, which means a contest in case of a close vote. He also filed another protest against the returns of that precinct, embracing a written statement signed by the Republican judge and watchers, declaring that votes were counted for Osborne, the thirdparty candidate for county commissioner, when they belonged to the Osborn running for the same office on the Republican ticket. The protest further alleged that one Democratic vote, on which all the Presidential electors by Thomas R. Cobb were scratched, was counted for the whole electoral ticket. When the count of this precinct had been concluded there was so much irregularity apparent in the recording of the Union Labor vote that Mr. McCray gave notice that he would file a protest against the return of every ward in which a vote for the Union Labor ticket had been cast.

After these two precincts were disposed of the First ward was taken up, and the canvass proceeded as rapidly as possible. There were no changes or irregularities noted. The inward was not present when called, and a rule was adopted that when an inspector was passed he should take his place at the foot of the list. There were no changes in the count of the secand precinct of this ward. Tincher made a gain of two votes in the third precinct, and an error was discovered in the vote returned for Bynum. On one sheet it was given as eighty-six, and on the other, eighty-three. As the latter figures appeared on the tally-sheet, it stood in the count. There were no changes of significance in the Third ward. The vote remained the same as returned. In the second precinct Prohibition tickets designed for joint Representatives, but cast for Representatives. were, upon the ruling of the chairman, not counted. The Fourth ward was passed as correct and the vote of the Fifth ward disclosed no errors. Walden, Republican candidate for Representative, gained ten votes in the first precinct of the Sixth ward, but no other changes were made. In the second precinct of the Eighth ward Mitchell, for prosecutor, gained one from the Probibition column, and Wagner, for coroner, one from the United Labor ticket, The votes had not been added to the totals. There were no changes in either precinct of the Ninth ward.

While the vote of the first precinct of the Tenth ward was being canvassed, the reading slerk read 167 votes for Rooker, when it should have been 162. The mistake was about to pass, when City Attorney Taylor discovered the error on the tally-sheet. It looked very much as though the clerk had purposely misread the vote, and the Democrats were indignant because Mr. Taylor had discovered the error. Had the 167 stood, Dr. Wagner would have lost all hope, as his claim to election was on only three or four votes. During the count of the next presinct it was moved, and carried, that no one not an official connected with the count had any right to be looking at the tally-sheets while the vote was being canvassed. Mitchell gained one sote in this precinct, it coming from the Union

Hadley and Tincher, Republicans, coming out of Hendricks county with large majorities, the former with 1,211, and the latter with 1,155, saused what especial interest there was in the canvass to center around their vote in this county. This interest was strengthened by the ploseness of the vote on coroner. A precinct thrown out would settle the question in favor of the Democratic candidates for circuit judge. prosecutor and coroner, and when the second precipct of the Thirteenth ward was reached it appeared as if the time had come for the Democratic inspectors to re-peat some of the practices that made the board of 1896 infamous. To that precinct Frank T. Hord on the morning of the election came to serve as inspector, he having been appointed by the county commissioners. As he had not been a resident freeholder and housebolder in the precinct for one year preceding the election, he could not legally accept the place. "When I, having the ballot-box with me," Mr. Hord said to a Journal reporter last night, "got to the polls, George Merritt showed me a legal opinion, signed by Ferdicand Winter, to the effect that an inand householder in the precinct, at which he is to serve, one year preceding the election. He shen said I was disqualified from acting as inspector. I failed to meet the requirements of sworn in and Charles N. Lee was chosen and took the oath as inspector. There was no one at that time at the polis to act as judge for the Democrats and by agreement of both parties, although disqualified by the statute, I was sworn in as judge. It is now proposed by the Democrats to throw the precinct out on the ground that if I could not act as inspector I could not serve as judge. I make this state-ment now, because I believe the proceedings at the polls were fair, and I do not care to be involved in anything that has for its purpose the throwing out of the vote merely to secure a partisan advantage."

Rooker, Democratic candidate for coroner, had been losing votes in several precincts, and when the second of the Thirteenth was reached, with the hopes of saving him from defeat, W. V. Rooker, a brother, although not a member of the board, moved to throw out its vote on the ground given in Mr. Hord's statement. The Republican candidate had a majority of about one hundred and thirty in the precinct. The protest was discussed at length, and then, by a vote of the board, action was postponed until all other precincts had been canvassed. The count of the Fourteenth ward showed a few changes, but no one gained materially. The Democratic tricksters were considerably surprised when the second precinct of the Fifteenth was called and attorney W. A. Ketcham moved to throw out the whole precinct for the same reason the Democrats urged in regard to the second of the Thirteenth. The Republicans in the ward selected Tim Splann as judge. The inspector refused to allow Splann to serve on the board, and, as is charged, appointed a man as judge who was not a freeholder or a property-holder. The Democrats have a majority of 183 in the precinct, and the board was therefore ready to object to its being thrown out, although, as Mr. Ketcham showed, there was much better cause for such action than in the second precinct of the Thirteenth. By a unanimous vote the board also postponed action on this precinct until after the count was concluded in all the others. In the first precinct of the Sixteenth ward Tincher gained one vote, but no other changes were noted. The count of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth wards was concluded without any hindrance. In the second precinct of the Nineteenth ward John L. Griffiths, for Reporter of the Supreme Court, made s gain of four, but the vote in both the other precincts remained the same When the second precinct of the Twentysecond ward was called, Frank McCray asked Inspector Rosebrock if it was not a fact that there was a discrepancy between the poll-books and ballots, and if, when that was discovered, twenty ballots were not picked up off the floor and put in the box. Inspector Rosebrock denied that anything of the kind had happened, but an affidavit was submitted showing that there was a discrepancy, and that the box was stuffed. Mr. McCray protested against the vote of the precinct.

The crookedest work of the election was exposed when the tally-sheet of the third precinct of the Twenty-third ward was reached. As soon as the inspector offered the sheet Mr. Ketcham stated that he was reliably informed that there was a discrepancy between the tally-sheet and the poll-list. Taking the sheet, Mr. Ketcham examined it, and then said: "I see the list of names foots up 507. Then I see that there were cast for Thomas R. Cobb, who heads the Democratic electoral ticket 412 votes, and for J. N. Shackelford, who heads the Republican electoral list, 112, making a total of 524 votes cast. It is absolutely a matter of physical impossibility for 507 men to vote 524 times and each man vote but once." Further, Mr. Ketcham said, this board could not determine whether the illegal vote was in the middle of the number or at one end. It was certain, he said, that the 524 votes counted were not exist-

Inspector Vogt wanted to know what the tally-sheet showed, and the two sheets were compared and the same discrepancy appeared on the tally-sheet. It was then suggested by Inspector Corbaley that there might be a duplication of the number opposite the names on the poll-book, but an investigation made by Mr. Ketcham and Mr. Corbaley showed that there bad been none. Inspector Reivel, of the precinct, was called on for an explanation, and he said he could not account for the number of votes unless it was the fault of the clerks. He said there was one double ticket and a dodger put in the box. Chairman Brown said he did not think the board wanted to do anything but what was right. However, he did not see how the board could do otherwise than receive the vote as it appeared on the papers before it. To be sure there was a discrepancy shown, but the board could not decide who was responsible for

Mr. Ketcham said it had been his good fortune to examine a good many poll-books, and he had never seen one that showed more care than the one from this precinct He did not think the clerks could be charged with this discrepancy. His opinion was that a court would throw out the whole precinct unless the discrepancy could be explained. Being in the minority, he did not pretend to say what this board should do. Mr. Vogt then moved that the returns be received, and that the vote be counted as it appeared. The motion was seconded by Frank Landers, and all the Demoeratic inspectors voted for it. Before the vote was counted a written protest was filed, along with an affidavit for Charles G. Coulon, of No. 123 Kennington street, who cited the following witnesses: Albert Leiber, L. F. Zaiser, Henry Becker, Fred Francke, Charles H. Rohl and Joseph Tilly. The Republican candidates present said privately that they would ask the court to throw the precinct out. The Democratic majority there is just 300, and if the vote is set aside it will elect several men on the Republican ticket.

The inspectors of the first and second precincts of the Twenty-fourth ward were absent, and the precincts had to be passed. The third of the ward showed no changes of importance. The first and second of the Twenty-fifth ward showed small gains for the whole Democratic ticket. The inspector in the third precinct was absent, and was passed. At this juncture the Democrats undertook to extricate themselves from the trap they had prepared for the Republicans with reference to the second precinct of the Thirteenth ward. Frank Landers moved that the former action with reference to the second of the Thirteenth and the second of the Fifteenth be reconsidered, and that the vote of both precincts be now received and counted. The motion was heartly seconded by Hiram Miller, and was passed. The inspectors in both precincts had gone home for the night, however, and the count had to be postponed. The count of the eight precincts in Center township outside of Indianapolis was completed at midnight. Wagner gained one vote in the precincts. There were then six Indianapolis precints out, and all the out townships of the county. The officers of the board thought the official tally-sheet would not be footed up and signed before noon to-day, Dr. Wagner at midnight had made a gain of eighteen by the count, and his election was practically assured by about fifty majority. Mitchell had also gained about ten, all from the Prohibition and Labor vote, but there was still a belief that Tincher would be elected by a small majority. There seems to be no doubt about Hadley's election as circuit judge, although he had made no gains in this county.

There will be another protest filed when the fourth precinct of Wayne township is reached. There are affidavits to show that Inspector Miller, of that precinct, received the votes of thirty hopelessly insane persons. and the board will be asked to throw out the entire precinct. The vote will, of course, be countd by the board, and then the contest will follow. Good attorneys in the board claim that there is ample ground to throw out enough precincts to elect the entire Republican ticket, and several of the candidates will press the matter.

Making the footings on the canvass-sheet will be tedious work, but just as soon as they can be had, to-day, they will be given on a bulletin at the Journal counting-room.

Pittsburg Chronicle. It is none too soon to begin to agitate the question of a single term in the executive office, and the extension of that term to six years. The arguments in its favor are many and cogent, and the number of people who are in favor of this reform is great and increasing.

VISITORS TO GENERAL HARRISON.

A Delegation from Hendricks County Brings the Congratulations of Its People.

General Harrison yesterday received two delegations. The first to arrive and the first that has called since his election came from Danville, Hendricks county, five hundred strong, under the leadership of Lieut. -Gov. -elect

Ira J. Chase, Arriving over the I. & St. L.

road at 4 o'clock, they marched from the depot to the General's residence, a distance of nearly two miles, through the heavy rain that was falling at that hour. With the exception of about one hundred and fifty ladies who accompanied them, the majority were members of the Danville Lincoln League Club, the first or-ganized in the State. It was before it General

Harrison delivered his now famous Danville speech of Nov. 26, 1887. This speech was the key-note of the campaign just ended, and the club hurried in as soon as the result was assured that they might be the first club to congratulate the next President.

The scenes on the streets as the visitors marched through two by two were exciting in the extreme. They were greeted with cheers on every hand. The small cannon that has done such good service on like occasions was fired from the old Journal Building, and there was a continual uproar and din from tin horns along the principal thoroughfares.

said that their only desire was to tender their congratulations, and that no speech would be asked, upon which request the General accompanied him to the front steps. For a time each member of the club made supreme endeavors to convey his individual congratulations, but finally quiet was restored and Mr. Hull delivered a brief congratulatory address, saying that the people, after four years of constant search, have found the key-stone whose loss has threatened the destruction of the whole fabric of the government, and now the arch is perfect and the people saved. Although it had been previously agreed that no handshaking was to be expected on either side, over half the delegation succeeded in reaching Gen. Harrison. Shortly before 6 o'clock a delegation of eleven officers and members of the Lincoln

Club, Cincinnati, arrived over the C., H. & D. The call was to tender the services of the Lincoln Club as a personal escort to the President-elect on his inauguratien trip to Washington. The club, which numbers over 1,200 members, lays claim to this honor on the grounds that it is the oldest political organication in the West, and that their city still remembers the successful candidate of Indiana as a former citizen. In the party were the following: Hon. Benjamin Butterworth, who has been a member of Congress for the First Ohio district, with the exception of one term, since 1878; Gen. Charles E. Brown, member of Congress for the Second district; Amor Smith, jr., Mayor of Cincinnati; A. C. Horton, president of the Lin-coln Club; W. B. Smith, H. R. Probasco, Samuel Bates, jr., George Matthews, Samuel Woodside, W. A. R. Tenney and J. C. Yorston, all prominent members of the club, and among the foremost citizens of Cincinnati. Their call was made after supper. Mr. Horton introduced the delegation and stated the object of the call, after extending hearty congratulations on the result of the election. General Harrison replied in a very few words, stating that he was much gratified and highly honored by their kind offer of their services, but, he said, no definite acceptance or refusal could be given at this early date. He would, however, take it under favorable consideration and reply as soon as possible. After some passing conversation, the visitors left. They will return to Cincinnati

Mrs. C .- A crow, Grover. Mr. C .- Rats! Frances, rats! A Happy Exchange.

Philadelphia Press. The exchange of Cleveland for Harrison is the exchange of a blundering accident for a trained and masterful statesman. The exchange of Democracy for Republicanism is the exchange of a Weekly and Monthly Payments than congratulated. Your bearing has been perfect. Your troubles now begin. My earnest prayer that blight for a blessing.

Written for the Indianapolis Journal. A Post-Election Song. Cleveland.

Colored boys de lection s over Little Ben got away wid Grover, Every colored man is singin' Very loud de chourus' ringin'. Ain't we glad de lection's over. And Little Ben got away wid Grover! Sing, sing de lection's over Little Ben got away wid Grover.

Every rebel in de Nation Longed to have a jubilation, And now Old Grover got to go, No use talkin' it is so— Discharged home to Buffale, Ain't we glad de lection's over And Little Ben got away wid Grover! Sing, sing de lection's over Little Ben got away wid Grover.

Hab you heard de glorious news! All de rebels on the run, Kunnin' cos dey's skeered I spose; Runnin' cos de 'lections done. Grover's done for, Ben has got dar. Cos de 'lection it is done. Grover's done for, Ben has got dar; All de rebels on de run.

I don't see de ole bandanna Swing in triumph cos rebels won; Oh, I'll sing de loud hosanna Now de rebeis on de run. Grover's done for, Ben has got dar, Cos de 'lection it is done. Grover's done for, Ben has got dar; All de rebels on de run.

Good-Bye, Grover. Tune-"Just Before the Battle, Mother." Just before I voted, Grover, . I was thinking much of you, How you vetoed at your pleasure All the boys who wore the blue. But your race is run, dear Grover, And your time will soon be o'er, When you'll hand the strings to Bennie,

On the Old Potomac shore. Farewell, Grover, you may never See that Old White House again, But you'll not forget it, Grover, When you've given it to Ben.

Just before election, Grover, I was thinking much of you, How, when all the votes were counted, You would get but very few.
On the Fourth of March, dear Grover,
Then the White House you must leave, For our Indiana Bennie Then the office will receive.

Chorus-NOBLESVILLE, Ind.

To-Day's Acrostic.

Cleveland. Comrades who fought where many fell, Listen to the news I tell. Election gave the rebels h-1. Veterans stopped their frantic yell-Every soldier cries "all's well." Long life and honor to gallant Ben, And all good people say "amen." Now let every patriot shout, Drive all rebel rascals out.

Hurrah, hurrah for the soldiers true! A glorious yiet'ry has been won, Raily all you boys in blue, Rally and shout for Harrison, Insolent vetoer, you can go; Soldiers, not rebels, won the fight. Oh, get you home to Buffalo— Now boys, Ben's "all right."

Cleveland's Soliloguy. Farewell, a long farewell, to all my greatness! This is the state of man: To-day he puts forth The tender leaves of hope; to-morrow blossoms And bears his blushing honors thick upon him; And when he thinks, good, easy man, full surely He's good for four years more, the campaign ends, And then he falls, as I do.

Daniel, I charge thee fling away ambition. By that sin fell the angels; how can man, then, The image of his Maker, hope to win by it? Love thyself last, cherish those hearts that hate thee, Corruption wins not more than honesty. -Ohio State Journal.

Their Efforts Were in Vain. While waiting men the count did watch With mingled hopes and fears, Inspired by party interest, Where were the Belva-dears?

Returns were read for Harrison

'Mid wild, excited cheers;

The Clevelandites, too, had their share-What of the Belva-dears? What mattered if they met and spoke, Disdaining husbands' sneers? Their ballots showed not in the count,

These Lockwood Belva-dears. Caw! I'm an ardent Democrat. You know that;

And I've something here to eat Isn't sweet! Even now I feel the taste To my waist! But it's here upon my plate To be ate, Though it's odorous and tough-Oh, it's rough!

A Trifle Too Much for Him. Daniel-Do you believe, sire, that education is not first and chiefly the mere learning of certain facts or principles, but such a development of faculties as makes a man master of himself and his conditional Grover-Well, Dan'l, yes and no. I trust I am master of myself, but the conditions seem to be knocking me sky high.

We'll Make a Note of It.?

Louisville Courier-Journal. Attention, Gentlemen of the Republican party! When you come into office and find a Democrat there who has not sent in his resignation, kick him out and kick him hard.

Advice to Motners. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always se used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produes natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty five cents a bottle.

Choking Catarrh.

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressing influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible dis ease, and cries out for relief and cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow-sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references. Each packet contains one bottle of the Radical Cure.
